

The Great Scavenger Hunt 2008!

Take a picture of...

This is your cover letter. Once you read this, you can wad the fucker up and throw it away. It has no more importance as far as the hunt is concerned. However, I would read it over carefully. It doesn't contain important information about the hunt.

So, let's do this!

First and foremost, look at your team. Smile at them. And agree that you're going to have a great time. Because that's what this is about. Having a great time. Not about winning or losing. It's about having the best fucking time you'll ever have without the aid of Rohypnol and condoms.

Second, let's dive into the subject of your camera. When you upload your photos, the site has a 1 MB limit for all photos. Make sure you've set your camera to a setting that takes photos close to but does not exceed 1 MB. It's no fun resizing all your photos so you can upload them successfully. An optimal setting would be 1600x1200 pixels. But you know your camera better than I do. Also, make sure the time and date is set correctly on your camera. If you're in a different time zone, we'll take that into consideration. But this is how we tell whether you were taking pictures within the time limit. So set your time and date NOW!!

Third, the list! It's sectioned off into 5 sections: Entire Team, Person Place or Thing, Someone, Stranger, and Teammate. At the top of each page it reads "Take a picture of...". That is how each item should be read. Ex. Take a picture of...Entire Team doing something. It's easier to have that in the header versus typing it out for each item.

Fourth, there are a few rules that you have to follow. Nothing hard, just a few things that you need to keep in mind. And they are as follows:

- 1) Entire Team means your entire team minus 1. So for a team of 5, only 4 people need to be in the photo because your fifth member will be taking the picture. For teams of 4 or 3, same thing. Team minus 1. Doesn't matter which one. The photographer can be anyone from your team.
- 2) Person, Place, or Thing consist of pictures without teammates (unless stated otherwise).
- 3) Someone can be anyone!! Teammate, friend, stranger, priest, waitress, cow. Does not matter.
- 4) Stranger is someone who is not a part of your team or circle of friends. They must be someone you do not know prior to the hunt. Also, once you use someone in a photo, they are a part of your family. You cannot use them again!
- 5) Teammate is just that. Only need 1 teammate in the photo (unless stated otherwise).
- 6) Male/Female Teammate is pretty self explanatory. However, if you do not have one the genders present on your team, then it becomes an Entire Team pic for you. We will also accept cross dressing to fulfill the picture requirements. But it has to be good cross dressing, putting on a dress or a tie is not good enough. You have to go ALL OUT and look the part.
- 7) No website pictures (unless stated otherwise). You cannot take a picture of something on a website and call it your own. These pics will not be counted!
- 8) No photoshopping! If we can tell any amount of editing was involved in your pictures, we will not count those photos and they will be taken down from the website.
- 9) All photos must be taken within the 24 hour time limit. Again we won't count them if they're taken outside the 24 hours.
- 10) Each picture may only count for one item. a shot of a deer in headlight giving birth is worth only deer in headlights or something giving birth NOT BOTH.
- 11) If we cannot figure out what your picture is, we will not count it. Even though each picture is labeled (you'll see when you upload them), we still won't count it if we can't tell what it is. Take your time to set up the shot.
- 12) We suggest having an extra pair of clothes (or two), a full tank of gas, some extra money, extra batteries (or your charger on hand), and a few pens, highlighters, and sharpies. We've found that these things are invaluable!
- 13) Have fun.

That's about it. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to email me. My email is daniel@thegreatscavengerhunt.com or webmaster@thegreatscavengerhunt.com. My phone number is (217) 430-8435. I will be at my computer waiting to answer any questions you may have until 2pm CST. You can call me at any time during the hunt. Yes, I will be hunting as well, but I can always take a phone call. If I don't answer (for some unbeknownst reason), just leave a message with your name and phone number and I will get back to ASAP!!!

When you call, ask for Shnookums-Bear !

See you on the hunt,

Admin Dan
